About Our Menu

About Our Menu

Our menu is designed to have a little something for everyone, from fresh seafood to great sandwiches, salads, pastas, chicken, meats, daily specials, and sunday breakfast items. We make our own salad dressings, sauces and marinades, and use only top-grade-cuts of meat. We fly in our seafood overnight, fresh from the Florida coast. Realizing healthy is in, we also ofer many tasty, hearthealthy items. Please join us in our dining room or on the patio to enjoy our great waterfront atmosphere.

They don't come any fresher.

Talk about authente. Bruegger t bagde begin with the puret; high-ert quality mycelent: They're kettl-beled and hearth-baled, the old-fashioed ways had you'll move eatch in using ole, preservations or artificial nigredente. What's move, we bake our bagden mild batcher all day long. So there's always a fresh hot baged wasting for you.

While you're here, taste breeger's famous cream cheese, made wat hich oppedente. Or op a cup of our very own herb-ground, cutton-blandel coffee, Javabl Or osh you teeth into a basel and woch made work premum delimeate garden-tresh vogges and your choice of delectable entires.

So dise in or take out. Come for breakface, lunch, or a mack. Whatever you do, done even think of cettling for anything less than Bruegger's.

Building History

The Indiana Oxygen Building was constructed in 1930 during the Great Depression. It housed the offices and manufacturing facilities for the Indiana Oxygen Company until 1991 when they moved to a new facility. Ell Lilly purchased the building, which was located on South Delaware. Lilly plannaed to demolish the building in order to provide space for expansion. The Historic Landmarks Foundation of Indiana fett the building was architecturally significant and should be preserved. Ell Lilly then generously donated the building and the lot where it now stands. The foundation merely needed to move the building. Thus in 1995, the 735 ton Oxygen Building was moved to its current location. At that time, it was the heavest building ever moved in the United States. The building was put up for sale immediately and sat vacant awaiting a suitable buyer. Jeff Dunaway left St. Elmo in February 1997 efter nearly 21 years, 11 as owner. After a tip from Bruce Kwitney of Roberts Distributors, Jeff and his wrife Cindy isited the Oxygen Building in September 1997. They both felt the building was an ideal site for a new restaurant. After months of planning with the help of Richardson, Munson and Weir (architectural design firm) the plans for renovation and new construction were approved by the Historical Society, the Dunaways closed on the building. In order to have adequate dining space, an addition to the building was designed including state of the art audiovisual capabilities to cater to large groups, professional meetings and special parties. On top of this room will be the city of first open-air rooftop dining area. Construction started July 24, 1998 with Sullivan Corporation as the General Contractor. The name Dunaway's was selected and Tim Brater was hired as executive chef. The restaurant opened for dining on December 17, 1998. The architecture of the Indiana Oxygen Building combines the Art Deco syle with industrial motils in an inventive manner. The interior offices include Art Deco, Cothic and Tudor decor, especially signi

The Hooters Saga

Several years ago while playing Parchesi at "The Home for the Visually Offensive", several semi-intellectual Clearwater businessmen had a sudden urge for the smell of rough sawn lumber and/or the taste of Buffalo style chicken wings. Knowing full well that they could not age on anything as a group, and that they could not get a weekend pass from the "home" to go to Buffalo, they decided to embark upon a major undertaking, that being, to open a place in Clearwater where other people of their caliber could gather and quench their thirst for the finer things in life.

Their ventura, however, got off to a slow start. After announcing their plans, the "Hooter Six", as they are now called, were promptly arrested for impersonating restaurateurs. There were no indictments, but the stigma lingers on.

There were many obstacles ahead, not the least of which was procuring a suitable location. After months of negotiations and a heated bidding war with "Wells Brothers Disposal", who wanted to use the building for a giant walkind umpster, terms were agreed to and 2800 Guif-to-Bay Boulevard, Clearwater, FL was theirs.

Anyway, that's all history...now, with successful Hooters in all 27 states, with more to come and at the request of several thousand Hoosier Hooters lovers, and the guys who want the race turned up, we have opened in downtown Indy After intense negotiations to obtain the dome broke down, we have settled into the Northeast corner of Union Station. Now Hooters is on its way to selling millions and millions of nearly tamous chicken wings.

All this B. S. aside, languish the end result, sit back and enjoy yourself. If there is anything special you require please ask - within reason, of course. You'll soon learn why we say, "Hooters is a wonderful thing,"
